Contents

VOLUME 24, NUMBER 1, FEBRUARY 1999
Published 25 January 1999

WOLF U. BLANCKENHORN and STUD N. T. VIELE
Foraging in yellow dung flies: testing for a small-male time budget advantage 1–6

OWAIN R. EDWARDS and KEITH R. HOPPER
Using superparasitism by a stem borer parasitoid to infer a host refuge 7–12

OLA M. FINCKE
Organization of predator assemblages in Neotropical tree holes: effects of abiotic factors and priority 13–23

JOHN A. FINN, TOM GITTINGS and PAUL S. GILLER
Spatial and temporal variation in species composition of dung beetle assemblages in southern Ireland 24–36

JAMES J. KRUSE and KENNETH F. RAFFA
Effect of food plant switching by a herbivore on its parasitoid: Cotesia melanoscela development in Lymantria dispar exposed to reciprocal dietary crosses 37–45

JOSIANE LE CORFF and ROBERT J. MARQUIS
Differences between understorey and canopy in herbivore community composition and leaf quality for two oak species in Missouri 46–58

GUANG-CHUN LEI and MARK D. CAMARA
Behaviour of a specialist parasitoid, Cotesia melitaearum: from individual behaviour to metapopulation processes 59–72

INGE MEIERHOFER, HORST H. SCHWARZ and JOSEF K. MÜLLER
Seasonal variation in parental care, offspring development, and reproductive success in the burying beetle, Nicrophorus vespillo 73–79

PAULO INÁCIO, K. L. PRADO and EMERSON MONTEIRO VIEIRA
The interplay between plant traits and herbivore attack: a study of a stem galling midge in the neotropics 80–88

MARY L. REID
Monogamy in the bark beetle Ips latidens: ecological correlates of an unusual mating system 89–94

ANTHONY M. ROSSI, PETER STILING, MARIA V. CATTELL and TODD I. BOWDISH
Evidence for host-associated races in a gall-forming midge: trade-offs in potential fecundity 95–102

BEAT WERMELINGER and MARC SEIFERT
Temperature-dependent reproduction of the spruce bark beetle Ips typographus, and analysis of the potential population growth 103–110

Short Communications

C. MARINA CAILLAUD and YVAN RAHBE
Aposymbiosis in a cereal aphid: reproductive failure and influence on plant utilization 111–114

Y. NAKASHIMA and Y. HIROSE
Trail sex pheromone as a cue for searching mates in an insect predator Orius sauteri 115–117

New Perspectives

R. BARTLETT, J. PICKERING, I. GAULD and D. WINDSOR
Estimating global biodiversity: tropical beetles and wasps send different signals 118–121

Book Review 122–123

VOLUME 24, NUMBER 2, MAY 1999
Published 26 April 1999

JON E. BROMMER and MARIANNE S. FRED
Movement of the Apollo butterfly Parnassius apollo related to host plant and nectar plant patches 125–131

JOHANNES W. BUSCH and P. LARRY PHELAN
Mixture models of soybean growth and herbivore performance in response to nitrogen–sulphur–phosphorous nutrient interactions 132–145

RAÚL CUEVA DEL CASTILLO, JUAN NÚÑEZ-FARFÁN and ZENÓN CANO-SANTANA
The role of body size in mating success of Sphenarium purpurascens in Central Mexico 146–155

A. E. I. FISHER, S. E. HARTLEY and M. YOUNG
Behavioural responses of the leaf-chewing guild to the presence of Eriocrania mines on silver birch (Betula pendula) 156–162

PATRICIA J. FOLGARAIT and LAWRENCE E. GILBERT
Phorid parasitoids affect foraging activity of Solenopsis richteri under different availability of food in Argentina 163–173

JOHN HUNT, JANNE S. KOTIAHO and JOSEPH L. TOMKINS
Dung pad residence time covaries with male morphology in the dung beetle Onthophagus taurus 174–180

S. D. LANE, N. J. MILLS and W. M. GETZ
The effects of parasitoid fecundity and host taxon on the biological control of insect pests: the relationship between theory and data 181–190

T. D. SCHOWALTER and L. M. GANIO
Invertebrate communities in a tropical rain forest canopy in Puerto Rico following Hurricane Hugo 191–201

GIL STAV, LEON BLAUSTEIN and JOEL MARGALITH
Experimental evidence for predation risk sensitive oviposition by a mosquito, Culiseta longiareolata 202–207

© 1999 Blackwell Science Ltd

GRAHAM M. STONE, FRANCIS GILBERT, PAT WILLMER, SIMON POTTS, FAYEZ SEMIDA and SAMY ZALAT
Windows of opportunity and the temporal structuring of foraging activity in a desert solitary bee 208–221

WALTER R. TSCHINKEL
Sociometry and sociogenesis of colonies of the harvester ant, Pogonomyrmex badius: distribution of workers, brood and seeds within the nest in relation to colony size and season 222–237

New Perspectives

ANDREW J. STORER, DAVID L. WOOD and THOMAS R. GORDON
Modification of coevolved insect–plant interactions by an exotic plant pathogen 238–243

VOLUME 24, NUMBER 3, AUGUST 1999

Published 30 July 1999

YVES BASSET
Diversity and abundance of insect herbivores foraging on seedlings in a rainforest in Guyana 245–259

E. A. BERNAYS
When host choice is a problem for a generalist herbivore: experiments with the whitefly, Bemisia tabaci 260–267

JASON W. CHAPMAN, TREVOR WILLIAMS, ANA ESCRIBANO, PRIMITIVO CABALLERO, RONALD D. CAVE and DAVE GOULSON
Age-related cannibalism and horizontal transmission of a nuclear polyhedrosis virus in larval Spodoptera frugiperda 268–275

A. CHOW and M. MACKAUER
Altered dispersal behaviour in parasitised aphids: parasitoid-mediated or pathology? 276–283

J. J. DUAN and R. H. MESSING
Effects of origin and experience on patterns of host acceptance by the opiine parasitoid Diachasmimorpha tryoni 284–291

SABINE EBER, STEFFI KNOLL and ROLAND BRANDL
Endophagous insects and structural niches on plants: ecology and evolutionary consequences 292–299

E. J. HAYES, R. WALL and K. E. SMITH
Mortality rate, reproductive output, and trap response bias in populations of the blowfly Lucilia sericata 300–307

LIA HEMERIK and JEFFREY A. HARVEY
Flexible larval development and the timing of destructive feeding by a solitary endoparasitoid: an optimal foraging problem in evolutionary perspective 308–315

PETRA HIRSCHBERGER
Larval population density affects female weight and fecundity in the dung beetle Aphodius ater 316–322

R. J. KNELL, N. FRUHAUF and K. A. NORRIS
Conditional expression of a sexually selected trait in the stalk-eyed fly Diasemopsis aethiopica 323–328

JOAN M. LEONG and ROBBIN W. THORP
Colour-coded sampling: the pan trap colour preferences of oligolectic and nonoligolectic bees associated with a vernal pool plant 329–335

S. W. PHILLIPS, J. S. BALE and G. M. TATCHELL
Escaping an ecological dead-end: asexual overwintering and morph determination in the lettuce root aphid Pemphigus bursarius L. 336–344

VICTORIA R. SCHMALHOFER and TIMOTHY M. CASEY
Crab spider hunting performance is temperature insensitive 345–353

PETRU SCUTAREANU, ROB LINGEMAN, BAS DRUKKER and MAURICE W. SABELIS
Cross-correlation analysis of fluctuations in local populations of pear psyllids and anthocorid bugs 354–362

B. STADLER and A. F. G. DIXON
Ant attendance in aphids: why different degrees of myrmecophily? 363–369

VOLUME 24, NUMBER 4, NOVEMBER 1999

Published 27 October 1999

CONCHITA ALONSO
Variation in herbivory by Yponomeuta mahalebella on its only host plant Prunus mahaleb along an elevational gradient 371–379

JACOBUS C. BIESMEIJER, JULIETTE A. P. RICHTER, MARTIN A. J. P. SMEETS and MARINUS J. SOMMEIJER
Niche differentiation in nectar-collecting stingless bees: the influence of morphology, floral choice and interference competition 380–388

RUSSELL BONDURIANSKY and RONALD J. BROOKS
Reproductive allocation and reproductive ecology of seven species of Diptera 389–395

GEMMA DAVISON, CLAIRE L. LAMBIE, WENDY M. JAMES, MARION E. SKENE and KEITH R. SKENE
Metal content in insects associated with ultramafic and non-ultramafic sites in the Scottish Highlands 396–401

CONSUELO M. DE MORAES, A. M. CORTESERO, J. O. STAPEL and W. J. LEWIS
Intrinsic and extrinsic competitive interactions between two larval parasitoids of Heliothis virescens 402–410

G. W. FERNANDES, M. FAGUNDES, R. L. WOODMAN and P. W. PRICE
Ant effects on three-trophic level interactions: plant, galls, and parasitoids 411–415

© 1999 Blackwell Science Ltd

L. C. P. Fernando and G. H. Walter
Activity patterns and oviposition rates of Aphytis lingnanensis females, a parasitoid of California red scale Aonidiella aurantii: implications for successful biological control 416–425

J. Joy and A. S. Pullin
Field studies on flooding and survival of overwintering large heath butterfly Coenonympha tullia larvae on Fenn's and Whixall Mosses in Shropshire and Wrexham, U.K. 426–431

Brenda D. Kranz, Michael P. Schwarz, Laurence A. Mound and Bernard J. Crespi
Social biology and sex ratios of the eusocial gall-inducing thrips Kladothrips hamiltoni 432–442

Timo Muotka, Arto Huhta and Pertti Tikkanen
Diel vertical movements by lotic mayfly nymphs under variable predation risk 443–449

Jacques Rochat, Flavie Vanlerberghe-Masutti, Pascal Chavigny, Roger Boll and Laurent Lapchin
Inter-strain competition and dispersal in aphids: evidence from a greenhouse study 450–464

Michael T. Siva-Jothy and Stewart J. Plaistow
A fitness cost of eugregarine parasitism in a damselfly 465–470

Clare T. Wuellner
Nest site preference and success in a gregarious, ground-nesting bee Dieunomia triangulifera 471–479

Short Communications

Joseph R. Coelho and Lara D. Ladage
Foraging capacity of the great golden digger wasp Sphex ichneumoneus 480–483

J. L. Dagg
Plant-induced change in the life-cycle of the pine aphid Schizolachnus pineti 484–485

J. A. Newman, D. J. Gibson, E. Hickam, M. Lorenz, E. Adams, L. Bybee and R. Thompson
Elevated carbon dioxide results in smaller populations of the bird cherry – oat aphid Rhopalosiphum padi 486–489

New Perspectives

Iain S. Williams
Slow-growth, high-mortality – a general hypothesis, or is it? 490–495

Book Review 496
